

SLISTER – How it Works

SLISTER digitizes the generation of the list of potential buyers (long list) and turns it in a smart list, a valuable and innovative tool for the M&A process.

- As an integral part of the M&A business, the longlist has to be compiled by the seller or his M&A advisor based on extensive and time-consuming research – that was the old way!.
- The approach described above neither guarantee that the longlist is complete nor that it's up-to-date.
- Our Smartlist is based on an intelligent algorithm that compares the sell-side query with current and relevant buyer profiles.
- The relevant selected investors are then - sorted by fit - displayed on the Smartlist and can be contacted directly and specifically .

Buy-Side-Benefit

Roadshows, marketing, networking - SLISTER reduces the effort involved in communicating the individual search criteria of the investor.

- Professional presentation of the search profile - tailored to the seller's query
- Intelligent algorithm ensures accurate fit of investors to targets
- Precisely fitting individualization of the search profile through detailed input options
- Search profile as daily updated business card for high visibility at the sell-side
- Automatic consideration also on pre-existing Smartlists
- Regular updates of matches and helpful hints for search profile-improvement by e-mail

Sell-Side-Benefit

SLISTER offers a free tool that identifies the right investors and sorts them according to their fit. The seller and his advisor are then able to address the buyers specifically.

- SLISTER is free for the sell-side - today and in the future
- Intuitive user interface - create, save, edit and export in a few steps
- Greater process-efficiency through minimized research effort
- Identification of potential investors according to relevance and fit
- Large number of qualified investors: financial investors, companies, family offices and private individuals
- Direct access through sector-specific contacts
